13 for the 13th
13 fresh corpses you may want to fondle before they rot!

I will dispense with the long preamble and get to the point. It's Friday the 13th and in honor of the occasion I have decided to dig up some fresh ones that you may have missed. These are future classics that you should molest before they get stale, or start to rot. Don't be the last lunatic on the block to see these movies!

Surveillance

From Director Jen Lynch. First, she gave us Boxing Helena in which she humorously looked at the nature of obsession. Jen is back and this time examining different perspectives in a twisting mystery of violent crime and ulterior motives!

2.

Under the Raven's Wing

From Director Susan Adriensen. If you haven't taken a look at Susan's first feature you owe it to yourself to get up to speed and have a look at this great and unique film.

3.

Five Across the Eyes

From Director's Ryan Thiessen and Greg Swinson. This micro budget feature ratchets the tension a hundred times over anything Hollywood can offer!

4.

End of the Line

From Director Maurice Devereaux. Religious Zealots are far more terrifying than any monster I have ever seen!

5.

[REC]

From Director's Jaume Balagueró and Paco Plaza. Ignore the American rehash and go for the real deal or go home!

6.

Gimme Skelter

From Director Scott Phillips. If you missed Phillip's Stink of Flesh, don't make the same mistake here, this is a blood drenched and funny as hell take on a little mass murder!

7.

Red Victoria

From Director Anthony Brownrigg. What happens when your muse gets out of hand and begins to fix your problems!

8.

Thicker Than Water: The Vampire Diaries Part 1

From Director Phil Messerer. What would happen if a vampire popped up in your family tree?

9.

The Blood Shed

From Director Alan Rowe Kelly. If you are not familiar with the antics of Beeftina, her cousin Sno-Cakes, and the rest of the family, you owe it to yourself to see what all the fuss is about!

10.

Savage Harvest 2

From Director Jason Christ. Go to Wicked Pixel Cinema and check out all the gory goodies available from one of the best Distributors of Independent horror in the business. These guys always deliver the goods!

11.

The Hills Run Red

From Director Dave Parker. This one has everything you are looking for wrapped in one tight little psychotic package!

12.

The Chair

From Director Brett Sullivan. You remember his name from Ginger Snaps right? Well this time instead of Werewolves he turned his attention to ghosts and knocked the fucker out of the park!

13.

Zombie Dearest

From Director David Kemker. What kind of horror fan would I be if I did not include at least one zombie film on this list? If you want some laughs to go with the terror, check this great little gem out!

There you have it my friends! My picks of some of the recent best and brightest, my apologies to all of the great independent features that did not make it, I unfortunately only had thirteen slots to fill and consequently had to leave a good number of very worthy pictures off this list. Let me know where you feel I fucked up, it won't change my list, but it might make you feel better!
