Interview with Actress

"Kimberly Amato"

Tonight I have with me a new inspiring actress "Kimberly Amato"

Hello Kimberly, Good to talk with you. Why don't you tell me something about yourself?

» What's there to say, I'm just me. Beyond that I'm a cancer baby who loves electronics, designing websites, writing screenplays and avoiding any and all seafood J I love watching baseball and playing all kinds of sports. Other than that I am just an easy going person who can spend twelve hours on set working my fingers to the bone or I can spend the day playing video games with my nephews.

What was your inspiration to become an actress?

» Growing up I have always had an unbridled passion for acting and writing. This is true even to this day. It's just something I have always wanted to be and I could never see myself doing anything else.

I see that you have a role in a film titled "Under the Raven's Wing" could you share with me something about your role in the film?

» Raven is a lost soul. She's gone through so much abuse and abandonment that she literally loses herself in her delusional world. She truly 100% believes in everything she says. Her relationship with the Angel and Jessie might be tumultuous at times, but in the end her love for them is true.

Is there a tentative date as to when the film be released?

» I believe it will be in the Spring of 2007

I know that you most likely have several favorite films, which are three of your favorites?

» "Lilo & Stitch" (I love Stitch), "JAWS" and "Nightmare on Elm Street"

Share with me some of your future goals in life, including acting of course?

» Simply put, I'd like to be a working actress and be able to produce one of my original screenplays. Other than that I just want to leave the world a little bit better than when I found it.

Would you happen to have a web site where my readers will be able to find out more about you?

» Yes, I have my website www.kimberlyamato.com and along with that.....I'm currently entered into a contest on www.livemansion.com

I made it to round 2 out of 4. Basically, people vote for me for the role of Rebecca. If I get to move to round 3 then I'll do a video audition. If I get enough votes and make it to round 4 I get to audition for the producer's and the possibility of getting my SAG card.

One last question, I understand that you worked in forensic psychology. Could you tell me about that?

» I have a master's degree in forensic psychology, I then worked in Bellevue Hospital's prison ward in NYC... and I recently turned down a job at Riker's Island to follow my dream as an actress.

Thank you so much for your time tonight Kimberly and best of luck with your acting career.
